

What about a club only contest?

Froth is t h e publication of the Brewers of C e n t r a l

Kentucky, anon-profit organization dedicated to homebrewing.

To submit something for FROTH, call Mark
Roberts (502) 227-
2695 or submit by email to mlr2390@aol.
com

DISCLAIMER: The opinions contained in this newsletter are those of the editor
unless you write something. So write something, already, or else you are only going to get my opinion.

We all have something to share, from creative ways to start a siphon
to a recipe or kit beer
we really like to something we have to sell. This is the place to do that. If writing intimidates you, call me, I'll do the dirty work.
Mark.

December 5, 2001

Froth

Volume 3, Issue 11

Beer Gift Exchange

The December meeting is the annual gift exchange. If you are new to this, then here's the scoop. You bring a beer-related gift of approximately $10 wrapped deceptively (you may spend a little more or less according to your personal desire—just remember: you could end up with whatever you bring). All those participating draw numbers. The person with 1 chooses a gift and opens it. Number 2 may "steal" the thing the first person has or take something new. You may not steal back that which is taken from you during the same turn. And so on and so on. The better the things brought, which is often the most useful, the more fun. There's always something that changes hands a dozen time.

New Officers for 2002 (well, sort of)

Mark Schentrup has agreed to serve another term as Primary Fermenter. That is dedication.

Bill Caldwell, will take the position of Secondary Fermenter. He helps make executive decisions (ale or lager this time?) and fills in when Mark is busy.

Randy Alexander is Tertiary Fermenter. His duties will remain the same. He is the Web Master who keeps BOCK's page up to date.

Paul Moss has agreed to take over as Scribe to produce FROTH. Expect changes in format and improvements in content. Well, some improvements, since I intend to continue to submit articles. (continued on back page)

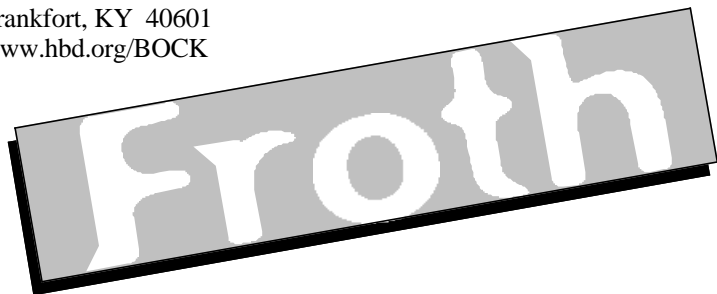

NEXT MEETING:

Wednesday, December 12 our faithful home—Sawyer's Downtown.

SAWYER'S

DOWNTOWN

Brewers of Central Kentucky
2390 Sullivan Lane
Frankfort, KY 40601
www.hbd.org/BOCK

The Cash
From Bob Hopkins,
Keeper thereof.
For ten months ending
November 30, 2001:

Income
Dues	$431.67
Raffle	156.00
Total
Income	$627.67
Expenses
Postage	$98.78
Printing	96.15
Other	4.00
Special
Events	266.42
State Fair	50.00
Total
Expenses	$515.35

Income in Excess of
Expenses
	$112.32
Cash Balance
Beginning	$1,187.34
Ending	$1,299.66

Officers continued...

Finally, Tony Aiken, the always dedicated member, has agreed to take the place of Bob Hopkins as Keeper of the Cash.

Bob has been Keeper for 5 years. That's service. He has decided to retire from the high pressure position of financial manager of BOCK and pursue more other activities.

I personally can't remember a meeting (other than during ice storms) that Bob has missed.

I SHALL NOW CLIMB ON MY SOAP BOX....BOCK is exactly what you put into it. You want more educational programs? Then design one and present it. You want pub crawls? Organize it. This is an all volunteer organization. That means the only way something happens is if someone makes it happen.

It's kind of like democracy. You can't rant against it 'cause you is IT. You want change, make it happen. But whatever you do, give these guys who are willing to give of their personal time some support.

OFF THE BOX...

Want a different toast for New Years? Try some of the new Belgian style beers from Allegash Brewing Co. at Liquor Barn. A good Belgian is every bit as fun as champagne, and these are better than the cheap stuff and priced about the same.